Charles Giles, Pacific Grove, filed an application at the county planning commission office Tuesday for rezoning 12 acres, east of Highway No. 1, north of the Carmel River for a "mobile homes" (trailer) park.

The county planners will receive official notice of the application at their June 28 meeting and set a public hearing for their next meeting, July 26.

A wave of opposition arose in Carmel when Giles presented his plans informally to the Carmel Planning Commission last month. The area planning commission has gone on record as opposed to such use of land now zoned agricultural-single family dwelling. The Carmel Citizens Committee has already protested to the county planning commission and asked the Carmel City Council, at its meeting last week, to protest to the County Board of Supervisors. The city council postponed action until the "appropriate time". Until Tuesday, Giles had made no official application.

He has now made his application, but June 28, when that application comes before the county planners is still not the "appropriate time" for Carmel to go storming over to Salinas. The planners must set a public hearing "whether they like it or they don't" according to Ed De Mars, planning director.

The time to appear and offer vocal protests will be at the July 26 public hearing. Also, letters of protest should be directed to the (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Angie Machado Trains Chorus For Festival Novelty, Play Of Daniel

A 12th Century musical play is one of the "novelties" of this year's Carmel Bach Festival, according to Angie Machado, choral director.

She referred to The Play of Daniel, which was produced two years ago by the New York Pro Musica Society in the Coisters of the Metropolitan Museum, and was believed then to be the first such performance since around 1230 A.D.

The liturgical drama, based on the story of the Old Testament prophet who deciphered the handwriting on the wall and later walked unscathed from the den of lions, makes use of a chorus, and an orchestra of pre-baroque instruments—a psaltery, rebec, buisine, vielle and others.

Miss Machado, whose job it is to rehearse the play's choral parts, says that she understands an attempt will be made at the Carmel production of the play to duplicate the sounds of these instruments where the instruments themselves are not available.

Musicologists say the reason for the long lag between the play's first performances, probably about 1150 when it was written, and its contemporary revival is that music scholarship has advanced only recently to the point where the play could be interpreted with any degree of accuracy.

The drama was transcribed into modern musical notation from a manuscript in the British Museum. The manuscript credits "students at the Cathedral of Beauvais" with authorship of the work. Text and stage directions are in Latin and the play will be sung here at the Festival in Latin.

Two performances are scheduled, one at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, July 19, in Sunset Auditorium. (Continued on Page Five)

The school board looked unhappy last night when one of their architects told them the 750 enrollment unit of their proposed 1200 enrollment high school would cost three million dollars.

This provides for 133,000 gross square feet of construction, and site development, but does not include built-in facilities, such as lab tables, according to Carol Rankin, reporting for the architects,

Parents Ask Board For Return To Basic Education

Last night Mrs. Adrian Bennett, school board member, told Supervisor Tom Hudson, representing a committee appointed by parents, "The board doesn't have time to go into this," when he presented proposals for a "return to basic education."

The parents' proposals:

"That students in all grades receive report cards at least quarterly which evaluate their achievement in quantitative letter grades as a tangible indication of the child's performance in comparison with others in his class.

"More emphasis should be placed on testing as a part of the teaching method with trial tests used prior to final testing. Additional learning is a direct consequence of such testing.

"We request that homework be given in all grades. Early formation of study routine, self-discipline, and an awareness of the im-

Elston, Cranston and Kump. The architectural development is "sympatico", in harmony with the site and local tradition, he said.

Board member Richard Snyder wanted to know if they could cut costs about 25 percent some way, perhaps by not having the architectural development so sympatico.

When someone suggested geodesic dome, Superintendent Stuart Mitchell said he'd seen it at Palomar Junior College, "and it is terrible."

Rankin pointed out that the big cost of construction is in the finishes. The architects have provided "medium quality finish like most California high schools", neither luxurious nor shoddy.

No plans, elevations nor sketches were displayed. Rankin's comments were made in connection with a written report, copies of which were distributed to the school board only. Additional copies are to be made this week end to be distributed to the citizens committee on school bonds, and a joint study session of school board members and citizens committee will be called at the earliest. Planners Postpone Regular Meeting To June 28, Set Others

Planning commissioners held two public hearings yesterday afternoon, considered plans for an Ocean Avenue shop and office development, extension of All Saints' Church use permit for a Sunday School addition, also a one-unit addition to Ocean View Lodge, fence and lighting for Carmel Sands-Carmel Lodge parking lot and Sixth Street planting area revisions at the Purity Store lot.

This took over two and a half hours. Then, attempting to set a date to discuss Carmel Valley Master Plan with Valley residents, commissioners discovered they would be unable to assemble a quorum next Wednesday afternoon. The next regular planning commission meeting was, therefore, set for June 28, 4:00 o'clock. At that time the commission will act on matters considered yesterday.

July 13 at 8:00 o'clock, commissioners will meet with representatives of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association, Rio Vista Association, Carmel Unincorporated and any interested Valley area residents to discuss Carmel Valley Master Plan in relation to Carmel Master Plan at the suggestion of the county planning commission.

A joint meeting of the city council and planning commission to discuss the Central District Plan will be held on June 29 at 4:00 o'clock. Following a public hearing on the plan last month, the council proposed eliminating one-way traffic, Ocean Avenue mall, and re-routing of Mountain View Avenue to form a park from the plan prepared by the commission. Mayor Frank Putnam thought the council should discuss this action with the commission and suggested the joint meeting with the commission.

No member of the public spoke at yesterday's hearings on rezoning two lots on the west side of Lincoln Street from residential to Christian Science Church parking lot use or extending the interim zoning ordinance to November 30, 1960. Commissioners appeared to favor both matters.

Building Inspector Floyd Adams wanted control of exterior business district lighting included in the interim ordinance but commissioners decided that the interim ordinance provided sufficient lighting control until such time as the lighting ordinance on which they are working is completed.

James Pruitt, in the audience, asked for a statement of the policy and intent of the proposed lighting ordinance, if lighting were subject, as suggested, to a commission use permit.

Chairman Herbert Blanks replied that the use permit would permit exterior building lighting if lights enhanced desirable decor; for walks, grounds and entrances for reasons of safety. A use permit meant a public hearing and public expression would largely be a control for outside business district lighting, he concluded.

Discussion on extending All Saints' use permit centered about off-street parking. The church, in a residential district, wants to build an addition on one lot at present. A church master plan shows further future development on several lots fronting on Dolores Street. Commissioners decided they could now only consider granting an extension of use to the one lot, but for future protection, wanted some indication that off-street parking, at least for church personnel, would be provided if and when further building is done.

Board-Teachers in Salary Agreement; $870,967 Payroll

School board and teachers' salary committee reached agreement last night on 1960-61 salary schedule which is $23,596 less than the teachers' first proposal; $5,334 more than the board's finance committee proposal.

Increase in salary budget is $56,615 in addition to the automatic raises the teachers would have received on the present salary schedule, brings this year's teacher pay roll to $721,174.

Yet to be considered by the board: requested increase of $1,200 over normal increase of $8,782.23 for classified employees, producing a total increase of $13,950.52; and administrators' salary schedule calling for raises keyed to teacher salary schedule increases.

In bringing their salary schedule within shouting distance of the board's finance committee proposal, the teachers' committee made their main cuts in the career teachers' increases rather than in the beginning and middle of the schedule as proposed by the board's committee. The board committee allowed $10,400 increase for career teachers. Teachers' committee cut this to $2,475. Board committee had pared increases from $200 to $100 per year for teachers in their first, second and third years. Teachers' committee upped this on a sliding scale starting with $149. Beginning salary is $4,800; top salary $8,400, same as the board committee's proposal.

If the administrators' new salary schedule calling for a pay roll of $93,178 is accepted, budget for all salaries for 1960-61 will be $870,967; an increase of $114,431

Anglo Bank, to Sixth Street, next to Scott's Silver, were discussed by commissioners. This development will be constructed where the Cinderella Shop and Cabbages and Kings now exist. Florence R. Swanston is the property owner.

The appearance of an added unit at Ocean View Lodge, southeast corner of Third and Junipero, was aesthetically offensive to commissioners. Owner Colonel Milo Matteson agreed that he and his builder, Ernest Bixler, will try to remedy this situation. Planting of street property at this location, shown in the plans, was not permissible, commissioners also stated.

Robert Little agreed to eliminate every other slat from a three-foot fence in front of Fifth Street planting at the Carmel Sands parking lot. Then he wanted commissioners to see if the street-side anti-dog fence was desirable. He also agreed to 13 lights for the lot after requesting 18.

Anticipated revenue from taxes, plus $225,804 reserve is $1,392,885; an increase of $106,781 over this year's. This is not enough to cover the needed $114,431 increase in salaries, but the administrators have worked out an $8,000 saving in cafeteria operation for next year.

New Zoning Plans For Business District Town Meeting Topic

Carmel Citizens Committee invites the public to discuss the proposed central district zoning ordinance at a Town Meeting on Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock in Sunset School cafeteria.

The committee also urges citizens to study the ordinance which "will set the pattern for the appearance and character of Carmel for many years to come," also discusses the ordinance and state their wishes to the city authorities and Hartland Law, chairman of the committee's sub-committee on zoning.

Committee recommendations for the new ordinance are: limitation of business district building sites; adequate open space and building size control; use permits with time limits; regulation of gasoline station, parking garage, accessory use, etc., locations and conditions.

torium, and another Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the same place. A symposium and seminar on the play will be held on Tuesday morning at 11:00 o'clock in the Carmel Woman's Club.

In the same interview, Miss Machado, who is "Angie" to a large group of musicians, music patrons and other Peninsula friends, discussed other aspects of the twenty-third annual Carmel Bach Festival, speaking as its local choral director and the representative here of Conductor Sandor Salgo of Palo Alto who will again direct the event.

She said, among other things, that adoption of the audition system in choosing musicians and singers, which is being followed for the second time this year, has gone a long way toward improving the sound of chorus and orchestra. And both participants and directors seem to prefer it.

Miss Dene Denny, who with Hazel Watrous founded the festival in 1935, has died since last summer's performance, and speculation has prevailed that the festival's loss of its founder might mean changes in its tradition.

But Angie says, "I think for the sake of the festival it is a happy situation to have a board made up of friends of Miss Denny and Miss Watrous, those who were in accord with their ideals and plans. They will continue to make the festival what its founders would have wanted."

Angie Machado, whose pleasant studio home at Fifth and Santa Fe has been a center of festival and other musical activity ever since she built it and moved there in 1952, has happy memories of her first contacts with the festival and with the Denny-Watrous team.

"All through our early school days my sister (now Mrs. William Mowat of Stockton, a frequent festival goer) and I came from our home in Hollister to the Peninsula for the important musical programs. I never imagined then I'd be personally involved in them, or that I'd one day be working with Miss Denny."

Angie moved to the Peninsula in 1942, following graduation cum laude from San Jose State College. Her career here as pianist, ensemble, piano and voice teacher, as a member of the Monterey Peninsula College music faculty, and as choral director of Santa Catalina School (a position she is regrettably resigning this year), has earned Angie the profound respect of musicians and music lovers.

On Thursday evenings the Machado studio regularly rings with chamber music produced by Angie and her friends, and on special occasions concerts are held in the remarkable studio which somehow expands to seat 40 guests when necessary.

Other musical organizations depending on Miss Machado for various kinds of support are the Monterey County Symphony board, of which she has been vice president and is now music chairman and a member of the conductor selection committee and, the boards of the Carmel Music Society and the Monterey Peninsula Concert Association.

Living with her part of the year in her studio is her mother, Mrs. John Machado.

Angie says she would like to travel more. She plans to adjourn to Mexico in August. She would have gone to Europe this summer, would have been there now, had it not been for the festival.

When they heard of her travel plans last winter, festival directors became uneasy, afraid that without Angie the event would lack that special continuity it could acquire from no one else.

This summer will mark Angie's fourteenth year as Bach choral director, but she is quick to point out that she is only one of a corps of faithful workers who lend this needed continuity.

Outstanding among the others is Ralph Linsley of Pasadena, who this year marks his twenty-second appearance, and who is thought of as the festival's pianist and harpsichordist, but is also personnel manager for the orchestra and unofficial festival representative and contact person for the festival in Southern California.

Other months of the year he spends as concert accompanist to

Symphony Elects New Officers, Still Seeking Conductor

The Monterey County Symphony Association elected new officers, discussed prospects for its new conductor and counted its blessings at the annual meeting Monday night at Carmel High School.

David Walton, Monterey businessman, was the board's unanimous choice for president. Other new officers are Sam Bell, Salinas, first vice president; King Benton, Carmel, second vice president; Eugene Harrah, Carmel, third vice president. Re-elected were Georgia Lyke, Pacific Grove, recording secretary; Frank Wright, Monterey, treasurer, and Janice Wyman, Salinas, corresponding secretary.

Named to the board of directors for three-year terms, in addition to Walton, Benton and Mrs. Wyman, were Douglas Graham, Mrs. Walter Williams, Fred Titus and Mrs. John Simpson, all of Carmel. Appointed to fill unexpired terms on the board were Mrs. Henry Baron, Monterey (1962) and Harold Gunnell, Salinas (1961).

Best news for the association was the treasurer's report submitted by Frank Wright. At the beginning of the 1959-60 season the association had already spent about $1,000 to cover debts from the preceding season, he reported. But at this season's end there was an earned surplus of over $1,600, and after making up the $1,000 owed from 1958-59, the association was still $600 ahead. Advance memberships for the forthcoming 1960-61 season have increased this amount to approximately $950 in the bank.

Eugene Harrah, chairman of a committee to study conductor prospects, reported that while five applicants had been interviewed, no definite selection had yet been made by the committee. (Serving on the committee, in addition to Harrah, are Angie Machado, King Benton, Georgia von Richter, Raymond Fabrizio, Eben Whittlesey and Sam Bell.)

"We have had in Gregory Millar and Earl Murray, two conductors of high professional calibre," stated Harrah, "and we want to be sure that we pick someone of equal stature, as well as someone who has some time to devote to the development and acquisition of musicians in the county and to liaison work." He added that the committee planned to audition several prospects during the three-week Conductor's Workshop of the American Symphony Orchestra League, which opens June 25 at Asilomar.

Outgoing President Carl Mencken had warm praise for the many individuals who had contributed much time and work to the symphony during the season, and to the organizations whose support had put the association in the black financially. He noted in particular the generous donations of the Symphony Guild and the M.P. V.S., as well as the Monterey Peninsula League.

artists such as Nan Merriman, Jeanette McDonald and Francis Bible.

As one festival official put it, "We have many hard workers around this time of year but doing without Angie and Ralph is one thing I'd never care to think about."

Clinton Anderson

Clinton B. Anderson died on June 9 after an illness of several months. A carpenter for 45 years, he had lived here since 1944. Recently he moved into a home which he had built himself on Arboles Road, Carmel Valley.

Mr. Anderson was born in Valley City, North Dakota, on June 7, 1890. He spent his early life in Minnesota where he married Bertha M. Hale in 1916. During World War II, Mr. Anderson worked for the U. S. Army in Alaska on military installations construction. Following this he lived in the state of Washington for a short time, then moved to the Peninsula.

He was one of the first members of the Carpenters Union in International Falls, Minnesota and a past member of Carpenters Local 1323 on the Peninsula.

Survivors are his wife, Bertha, of Carmel Valley; three daughters, Mrs. Lester Hunter of Granada Hills, Mrs. Hal Dasbach of Woodland Hills and Mrs. Bartlett Folsom of Minneapolis, Minnesota; his mother, Mrs. Olga Anderson of Littlefork, Minnesota, and two grandchildren.

Other survivors are five sisters and four brothers living in various parts of the United States.

Funeral services were held on Saturday in the Paul Funeral Chapel with Chaplain John R. Wright (USA Ret.) officiating. Interment was in El Carmelo Cemetery Columbarium.

National Little League Week, June 13 to 19, was given a good sendoff in the cozy Carmel circuit as Curt Mitchell and Ronnie Parsons teamed up to pitch a brilliant no-hit, no-run game against the hard-trying Turner & McEldowney gang to keep the grocers locked up in a battle for first place in the second-half pennant race. The Pilot crew clipped the bricklayers, 7 to 0, to keep pace with Lew McCreery's Sport Shop aggregation as the teams head into the last week of play. With Mitchell and Parsons showing the way at bat as well as on the pitching mound, Art Carpenter's hustling nine put together solid rallies in the first and second innings to build up a 6-0 margin over Don Canham's squad. Ricky Navarette started on the mound for T&M and finished the first heat but was relieved by Lawson Little in the second frame. Little ran into control trouble in the second but settled down to pitch brilliant ball the rest of the way. This game was the second no-hit, no-run game in Carmel Little League history, Clinton Macy having spun a near-perfect one earlier in the season.

Ronnie Mumford pitched the Sport Shop to an 8-2 win over Jack Cate's Wilder & Jones club in Monday night's league play to keep the Sports even with Pilot Market. The little righthander helped his own cause by hitting a booming triple as the Sports staged a big five-run rally in the third innig. Terry Tuttle and Randy Newman each garnered two hits to pace the Sport Shop offense while Gary Connell was the only W&J swinger to get a base hit. Ed Kawanankoa pitched the distance for Wilder & Jones and was clubbed for ten blows by the hit-happy Sports.

Newt Goodrich's Boys' Town nine slowed down the Pilot Market drive to the second-half title by clipping the grocers, 7 to 5, as Clint Macy tossed a six-hitter at Art Carpenter's squad. Besides hurling a steady game, Macy also connected for a home run to pace the clothiers at the plate. This game was touch-and-go all the way with the score deadlocked at 5-5 going into the final heat when the Boys' Town gang erupted for the winning runs. Speedy base running by Tom Verser, Gerald Pullen, Eric Danysh and Richard Oleson contributed to the Boys' Town scoring thrusts.

San Carlos Realty evened out its second-half record at 2-2 as Larry Little threw a two-hitter against Turner & McEldowney to post an 8-1 victory. Tony Klepich and Bucky Bucquet swung the big bats for the realtors, Klepich stroking a solid triple to drive in two runs and Bucquet driving in a pair of markers. David Erickson and Lawson Little were the only T&M batters to solve the slants of pitcher Little.

Jack Cate's Wilder & Jones gang shook off a hitting slump to club Boys' Town, 13 to 5, in Saturday's game which had been postponed from June 7 because of wet grounds. With Jimmy Ziles connecting for a double and triple and pitcher Kim Roberts hitting 3-for-4, the plumbers rolled to an eight run lead in the first four innings (Continued on Page Seven)

ROSTERS SET FOR COM.
LEAGUE BASEBALL

Carmel's new Community League baseball circuit which embraces boys in the 13-14 age group is ready to roll with three 15-man teams representing the Carmel area and one entry from the Carmel Valley. The new league is patterned after the long-established Pony League and will be played under the same rules as the nationally organized Pony League. Directors hope to secure a regular Pony League franchise after this season's trial run in the Community League. Due to atrocious playing conditions at the Carmel High School diamond, serious consideration is being given to moving back the fences at the Little League Park and playing the Pony League games there. League action is slated to start on June 28.

Dodgers—Coaches: Van King and Bill Rosenkranz. Rodger Johnson, Steve Caté, Rick Miller, Joe Anzini, Billy Aucourt, Howdy King, Ron Jella, Mike Paul, Steve Trapkus, Craig Harder, Tom Leutzing, Larry Sheingold, Charles Benson, Penn Rose and Jerry Olsen.

Giants—Coaches: Bill Woolsey and Howard Baxter. Ricky Wilkerson, Tim Mosolf, Grant Pollock, Ronnie Berry, Kris Vosburgh, Pete McArthur, Terry Cooke, Charles Teevan, Greg Jones, Mat Little, Pete Bernard, Mike Lemmons, Ed Brown, Ray Rhodes, John Gamble, Bob McGinnis and Steve Dyer.

The Dodgers will hold their first practice session this Saturday morning at 8 o'clock on the high school diamond. The Braves will also practice this Saturday at 10 o'clock at the same place, and the Giants will get their first practice licks on Monday afternoon. Coaches Woolsey and Baxter will notify the players where and when.

Going into the final week of Farm Team Little League play, the Village Inn and Little Sparrows are all locked up at 5-1 and, barring an upset, should finish in a tie for the top spot. The Inn squad clipped Carmel Plaza, 11 to 2, in last Saturday's play as Jeff

Wickham pitched a neat three-hitter. Chuck Dawson's Little Sparrows engaged in a touch-and-go seven inning tussle with the Padres before finishing on top, 5 to 4. This was one of the best games of the Farm League season and could have gone either way. Rod Ruskell and Darryl Dawson hooked up in a neat hurling duel with both pitchers showing good stuff in the tight spots. Lee Stoney and Peter Rand turned in some sparkling fielding plays during the tense contest.

The surging Rocket nine, losers of their first four games, picked up its second straight win at the expense of Nikko's, clipping the restaurant crew, 10 to 8, with Gaylord Swim pitching the win. John Jacoby and John Anzini paced the bat-wielders in this one with Dan Hudson, Steve Edwards and Tim Connell coming up with fielding gems.

Paul and Gerald Artellan's American Legion crew also got win number two as it powered past Derek Rayne, 16 to 12. Benny Artellan pitched the win for Post 512, striking out 10 swingers and giving up a like number of free trips to first. Benny also stroked a triple to lead the hit parade. Mike Henly had the big bat average for the slugfest, getting three blows in four trips to the plate.

This Saturday's games match Derek Rayne with Village Inn at 9 o'clock; the Padres and Rockets at 11; Carmel Plaza and American Legion at 1, and the Little Sparrows against Nikko's at 3 o'clock.

CARMEL BABE RUTH SQUAD
EDGED BY MOOSE LODGE

Although it got plenty of mileage out of its one hit, Hadley Hicks' Carmel Babe Ruth nine dropped a 5-4 decision to the Moose Lodge last Sunday afternoon at Monterey's El Estero Park. Bobby Moffett's triple was the only hit registered by the Carmel swingers, but the Village nine picked up four runs on a series of walks and wild pitches. Carmel enjoyed a 4-2 bulge going into the final canto only to see the lead wiped out as the Moose parlayed two walks, a pair of miscues, and a well-stroked single by winning pitcher Santores into three runs to win the contest. Forrest Cornwall hurled a commendable four-hit game for Carmel but seven errors by his mates kept him in hot water for most of the game.

Carmel plays host to the league-leading Central Labor nine this Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The Labor gang has toyed with its opposition so far this season and is a heavy favorite to win the 1960 Babe Ruth League pennant.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

If our staff members seem harried to the point of mild frenzy these days, it's because they really are. This is vacation time for us, and we are working with reduced staff but with no reduction in work load. It's like mad, man, but honestly. We have been buying replacements this month, too. The books which stay in demand over the years wear out or are lost and paid for. These we replace toward the end of the year if and when the budget balance allows. One of the strange things in this life is the number of people who keep a book for a long period of time and then decide to report it lost rather than pay the fine. What we keep telling them and they can't seem to remember is that we never charge a fine which is more than the price of the book, and we always charge the price of the book when it is reported lost. The whole thing adds up to the fact that if they wanted that particular book they could get a new one in a bookstore for what they pay for the old one here. And of course they have a big fat lie on their wizened consciences when the deals are over. Ah me!

So now with undeniable logic we come to our first book which is entitled Women and Fatigue. It was written by a woman doctor, name of Marion Hilliard, who finishes off the problem and the book with this thought, "Love God and do as you please. If you do, fatigue vanishes." Make way now for a nation of women doing as they please to cure fatigue! What an intriguing thought.

With Berlin so in the news these days, the new biography of Mayor Willy Brandt is timely and interesting. He called his book My Road to Berlin. The author was an officer in the Norwegian army who renounced his Norwegian citizenship to return to Germany and work for the good of his native country.

Joseph Bryan is a man who regards the Civil War in lighthearted fashion, and his book entitled The Sword Over the Mantel is entertaining. He tells many a hitherto unknown anecdote about the famous generals of the war between the states but much of the book is serious, and Mr. Bryan speaks with some emotion about certain events of the war and the men who enacted them.

Apartment Building Design is the short title of a book by F. R. S. Yorke and Frederick Gibberd. Here are pictured and described the outstanding apartment buildings found all over the world with plans and notes on their particular advantages. Fascinating! Building?

There are three new mysteries this week and also Mary Syewart's new one which is entitled My Brother Michael. And we finally bought Jack Paar's book I Kid You Not. A silly title. We hope the book is better than the title, and it must be, because such a lot of people are reading it.

Our list is short this week but most of the books are good ones. After all, you would never read any other kind of book anyway, so what difference does the shortness make.

Louise Taylor

Mrs. Louise Burdett Taylor, 88, mother of Mrs. Roland W. Scheffler, died on Saturday in a local rest home following a long period of failing health.

Mrs. Taylor was born in Collingwood, Ontario, Canada, on April 3, 1872. Her husband, Harry Neafie Taylor, M.D., died in 1920. She came from Palo Alto to live in Carmel 31 years ago and made her home with her daughter, Olga, at Lincoln Street and Thirteenth Avenue.

Mrs. Taylor was a member of All Saints' Episcopal Church where memorial services, conducted by the rector, the Reverend David Hill, were held on Monday morning. Inurnment followed in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium.

Those wishing to honor the memory of Mrs. Taylor may do so in the form of donations to the Carmel Foundation, Box 3424, Carmel; the Ave Maria Convalescent Home Building Fund, 1249 Josselyn Canyon Road, Monterey; and the York School Building Fund, 818 Forest Avenue, Pacific Grove.

Mary Matson

Mary Matson, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Matson, died on June 9 shortly after birth in a local hospital.

Survivors, in addition to her parents, are a half brother, John Moon, and four half-sisters, Barbara, Susan, Gretchen and Sally Moon, all of Carmel.

Graveside services were held on Monday in the Monterey Catholic Cemetery.

MYRICK AT MEETINGS

Carmel forest commissioner Charles E. Myrick was at Villa Montalvo, Saratoga, on Tuesday attending the 1960 second quarterly meeting of the California Society of the American Institute of Park Executives. Mr. Myrick is grounds supervisor at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School.

Host for the meeting was the Santa Clara County Recreation Department. An arboretum at Villa Montalvo is in the initial stages of development by the Santa Clara County Parks and Recreation Department.

Lou Ann Bowersox Married

White flowers decorated the altar of Highlands Inn Chapel on Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Lou Ann Bowersox to Eugene Willard Harney Jr. Dr. K. Fillmore Gray performed the ceremony at 3:00 o'clock before members of the bride's and groom's immediate families.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Joseph Wallace Bowersox. Her dress of white matelasse pique had a fitted bodice and bow-accented waistline above a full ballerina-length skirt. A cap of seed pearls held her shoulder-length veil and she carried a nosegay bouquet of white roses from which fell satin streamers.

Mrs. Thomas Conklin (Anne Putnam) was her attendant wearing a silver and blue brocade and blue silk two-piece dress, matching veil hat and white orchids.

Jack Belangee was best man for his brother-in-law and Thomas Conklin showed guests to their seats.

Mrs. Bowersox attended her daughter's marriage in a blue knit sheath, white hat and shoes worn with a spray of green cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Arthur Holtzhauser, the groom's mother, wore a pink tunic dress with matching hat, shoes and cymbidium orchid corsage.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the Fireside Room at Highlands Inn. Gardenias surrounded the tiered wedding cake which was cut by the bridal couple before they left for a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe.

For travelling the bride changed to a black and white polka dot sheath to which she pinned a green orchid corsage.

On their return they will live in Carmel where the groom is employed by Knapp Mill and Lumber Company.

Both the bride and groom are Carmel High School graduates and the bride attended Monterey Peninsula College this year. Her husband served with the U.S. Marines after graduation.

Attends Weavers' Meeting

Carmel weaver, Mrs. Dora Crabtree, attended meetings of the advisory council of the Northern California Handweavers in Stockton on Saturday.

WHAT'S DOING

Here's one way to go from coast to coast and not leave town. This young lady will soon call lots of places every day on her new job as a long distance operator. Here she's at a practice switchboard, training with a phone woman who learned the job in this way too. Other new people starting out in the telephone business will get training for different jobs—and get paid while learning. It's the first step in helping them build fine careers for themselves. And, of course, good training like this means good service for you.

Merrill Rose, an installer-repairman on the Monterey Peninsula, has been with the Pacific Telephone Company for nearly twenty years. Merrill, who resides at 935 Colton Street is another example of local telephone people who work to bring you good service quickly and efficiently.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science services this Sunday.

John's account of the healing by Christ Jesus of the man who "was blind from his birth" (ch. 9, will be included in the Bible readings. From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (539:27-30): "The divine origin of Jesus gave him more than human power to expound the facts of creation, and demonstrate the one Mind which makes and governs man and the universe."

The Golden Text is from Nehemiah (9:6): "Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee."

Equestrian Games Parties

The official United States Equestrian Team for the Olympic Games in Rome will be chosen after trials which start Saturday in Pebble Beach and last for seven days. Parties for the Olympic Games Selection Committee from the East, contestants and spectators are planned during the week.

Saturday evening, following the first Olympic dressage test, Mrs. Marie Davies will entertain at a dinner party for visiting officials. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Collins will give a luncheon party. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Dewey L. Carpenter and their daughter, Jan, plan to have contestants and officials as their guests at a dinner and dancing party at the Tennis Ranch.

Tuesday noon James M. R. Glaser will be host at a luncheon for officials at the Old Capital Club. Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Shreve M. Archer Jr. will give a dinner dance.

Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. Karl F. Frisbie and their daughter, Claudia, will be hosts at a barbecue. Thursday evening Miss Anita Doud will invite the selection committee for dinner at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osborne will have a lunch party at Indian Village on Saturday. A no-host dinner dance at the Beach Club will take place in the evening.

Sunday, before the grand finale, Mr. and Mrs. James M. R. Glaser will have a luncheon party. General Guy V. Henry of Virginia, chairman of the Equestrian Games Committee, and Mrs. Henry, will be the Glasers' guests during the week-long event.

Democratic Tea Saturday

The Carmel Women's Democratic Club annual silver tea will be on Saturday afternoon from 2:30-4:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Paul Low on Ridgewood Road.

Dr. George Outland, former congressman from the 13th District, now professor of social science and political science at San Francisco State College, will speak during the affair. Democratic candidates State Senator Fred Farr, Dr. John Craigie, State Assembly, and L. Boyd Finch, U.S. Congress, will also be guests of honor.

Mrs. Low will be assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Mervin Kipnis, hospitality chairman of the club, Mrs. Jeanne C. Tucker, vice president and Miss Pat Lane, president.

Mrs. Fred Farr, Mrs. Eugene Watson and Mrs. Saul Weingarten will preside at the tea tables. Mrs. Stanley Shloss, club treasurer, will be in charge of the silver offering.

Naval School Graduates

Recent graduates from the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School included Lieutenant Commander Ernest Staveley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Staveley of Carmel and John J. Metschell, husband of the former Mary J. Hillis of Carmel.

Kusters Go Abroad In July

Gay and Ted Kuster have leased their Carmel Valley home and are staying at the Blue Sky Lodge. Next month they will leave for London and two years of wandering about the continent, "everywhere it isn't politically hot," says Ted.

Tennis Doesn't Tempt Katie

A postcard from Katie Schleppe, dated June 9, reports that she has moved and is now living in Wimbledon where "Tennis matches start Sunday for those who favor the sport." Katie says her telephone number is Wimbledon 6055, "in case any friends from Carmel are planning to come to England". Her address is 22 Denmark Road,

London S.W. 19, and the weather is "rainy and squally."

Perhaps that's why the picture on the card shows Lynmouth, a fishing village on the Bristol Channel near the Doone Valley in Devonshire, complete with fishing boats, beach, steep wooded hillsides and only a few background clouds to mar the midday sunshine.

Mona Williams' Novel Accepted

Mrs. Henry Meade (Mona) Williams signed a contract on Tuesday with G. P. Putnam's Sons for publication of her novel, Hot Breath of Heaven, probably in the spring. She is flying home from the East today by jet.

While in New York, Mona saw her son Chris, a student at Pratt Institute. Next activity in the Williams' family will be the August wedding of Lacy Williams to John Faia.

Proof sheets of the new novel should begin to arrive in the early winter to be revised and corrected. Mona Williams' last book, The Marriage, was published two years ago. This book and her new novel both have a California setting.

Peter Hensel Here For A Week

On Saturday Peter Hensel, a freshman at Princeton University, will arrive to spend a week in Carmel with his mother, Mrs. Philip H. Smith, and Mr. Smith, who plan to meet Peter at San Francisco airport and drive him to Carmel.

Peter, a geology major at Princeton, will spend the summer working in a mine near Reno. He attended Carmel schools through his high school freshman year then left to live in the East. Mrs. Zenas L. Potter is Peter's grandmother.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Elbert Lee Fryberger Jr. (Judith Ann Bruggeman) passed under an arch of swords as they left the Carmel Presbyterian Church following their wedding on Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. Holding the swords were white-uniformed Navy officers, members of the wedding party and fellow students of the groom at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School. Chaplain G. L. Markle (USN Ret.) of Carmel officiated at the ceremony.

While guests assembled, Mrs. Philip Holyoake played organ music and after the bride's mother was seated Norma Jean Scott sang God Bless This Day. She also sang The Lord's Prayer while the bride and groom knelt at the altar during the ceremony.

The bride entered the church to the Lohengrin Wedding March and proceeded on the arm of her father, Howard F. Bruggeman, to the candlelit altar on either side of which stood tall standards holding white and yellow gladioli.

She wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory lace which had a cowl neckline, long dolman sleeves and a fitted waistline. Below the hipline the skirt flowed in back into a cathedral train. A pearl-trimmed crown of matching lace held her tulle veil in place and she carried a cascade bouquet of cream roses and lilies of the valley centered with an orchid.

Joan Grenier of New York, her maid of honor, was dressed in a champagne chiffon fitted sheath with a panel of the chiffon falling from waistline to hem in back. Yellow daisies were used for her bouquet and tiny head wreath.

Lieutenant Joseph Zable was best man for the groom. Ushers were the bride's brother, Fred Bruggeman, and Lieutenants Richard Hoover, William Eddy, Fred L. Wood, Philip Charest and J. A. Inglis, the latter from the Royal Canadian Navy.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Morse Drive. Mrs. Bruggeman received the guests wearing a moss green print dress with a matching overdress of silk organza, bone-colored hat, gloves and shoes and a green orchid corsage.

Mrs. Fryberger, who came from San Luis Obispo with her husband, Captain E. L. Fryberger (USN Ret.) to attend their son's marriage, wore a blue and gold silk print dress, and a pink hat. Her gold gloves and blue shoes harmonized with her dress on which she pinned a white orchid.

Garden flowers with a small statue centered the punch table covered with a cream-colored cloth, and a lace cloth covered the table on which stood the tiered wedding cake which was cut by the bridal couple with the groom's sword.

The bride changed to a white cotton chiffon dress with matching shoes, red jersey coat, blue hat and bag before leaving with her husband for a honeymoon in San Francisco. They will live in Carmel until the end of this month when the groom will receive orders to a new station.

Surprise For Gordon Reid

For a Father's Day present, Gordon Reid this week was told by his son, Kyrk, that the latter had been awarded a full tuition scholarship to study for a master's degree in civil engineering at Stanford University next year.

Kyrk received his bachelor's degree from Stanford on Sunday. He graduated in 1956 from Carmel High School where he was an honor student and outstanding athlete.

Although Kyrk had known he was to have the scholarship for several weeks, he kept the news until now for a Father's Day surprise.

Sue Mitchell To Marry Sunday

Sue will have her sister, Barbara (Mrs. Richard Small of Stockton), as her attendant. Louis W. Berrum Sr. will be his son's best man.

After a Sierra honeymoon, Sue and Louis will live in Reno where Louis is employed by the city recreation department. They met at the University of Nevada where Sue was a freshman this year. She will continue her studies at the university in the fall. Last June Sue graduated from Carmel High School. Her father is superintendent of the Carmel Unified School District.

The Honorable Frank H. Higgins, retired Assistant Secretary of the Army, was the guest speaker.

Flag Day report to members from Mrs. John Chitwood, states that she has sold 72 new 50-star flags.

ALBERT TALKS TO LIONS

A year or two in pro football after graduation from college is a good way for college football players to build up a fund for graduate work or training in the professions, Frankie Albert, retired San Francisco Forty Niners' coach, told the Carmel Lions at their meeting Tuesday night. Now a Carmel resident, Albert was the guest of across-the-street neighbor Police Officer Walter Boyle.

"I thought I'd finished speaking before clubs when I retired from the Forty Niners," Albert commented, "but when a policeman comes to your door..."

Albert said that salaries have increased so that pro football offers a genuine inducement.

"When I started with the Forty Niners, the payroll was $170,000; it's now $400,000. Then, advance sale of season tickets was 3,500; now it runs around 35,000.

Albert, an All American quarterback at Stanford, became star quarterback for the Forty Niners, then coach.

530 Sign Up For Summer Classes In Carmel Schools

Registration for Carmel Summer School classes reached 530 this week, according to Principal Charles Dawson.

The program at the grade school level starts June 27 and runs for six weeks, ending on August 5. High school summer classes start at the same time, continue for eight weeks, closing on August 19. Adult School summer session starts on July 5. Announcement of courses to be made later.

Third, fourth and fifth grade classes include arts and crafts, French, Spanish and instrumental music. Junior high students are enrolled in arts and crafts, French, Spanish, instrumental music and typing.

Capacity enrollments at the high school level include U. S. history, chemistry, typing and algebra.

In the remedial arithmetic and reading classes, 183 are enrolled. There will be 12 classes in arts and crafts, three in Spanish, two in French, two in instrumental music and two in junior high typing.

"This is a great increase over the first year's enrollment of last summer," Dawson says.

La Galleria, a new art gallery at 712 Cannery Row, will have an invitational Grand Opening tomorrow evening from 7:30-9:30 o'clock. Ben Small and David Bruce will operate the gallery, also a coffee shop at the same location.

county planning commission for this hearing, and not to the board of supervisors. This matter is of no concern to the supervisors at the moment. If the planning commission denies Giles' request for rezoning after the July 26 public hearing, and Giles appeals the decision to the board of supervisors, then citizens should write the supervisors and appear before them if and when they hold a public hearing.

The Carmel City Council, Carmel Planning Commission, The Carmel Citizens Committee, Carmel Unincorporated, The Carmel Valley Advisory Committee, and individual citizens en masse should oppose any additional commercial zoning at the Carmel Valley mouth, especially for a use of this kind, but the protests should be directed to the appropriate county body at the appropriate time.

It is a dissipation of energy and enthusiasm that will be needed at a later date, to beard the county planning commission on June 28 when they have no choice but to set a hearing date and legally may take no other action on the matter.

Accounts of her travels are eagerly anticipated during the summer by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Reid.

Peter Hatton Visits Briefly

Peter Hatton spent last week end in Carmel Valley as the guest of his mother, Mrs. Howard Hatton. He is a design engineer with Food Machinery and Chemical Company. At present he is working at the firm's new plant in Sacramento but expects to return to the San Jose headquarters of the company in several months. His home is in Los Altos and Mrs. Hatton reports that waterskiing and sailing his boat are Peter's weekend relaxations. He is a graduate of Sunset School and Carmel High School and studied engineering at the University of California.

Parents Ask Board For Return To Basic Education

portance of education should result on the part of the pupil. We would like to see classroom time spent in the presentation of new material and the stimulation of student interest. Much of the necessary repetition and drill in the learning process can be relegated to homework. Assignments should be graded and returned to the parents.

"We request that the Student Behavior Policy of the school district be enforced to the fullest possible extent in all of the schools. In addition, we request the maintenance of a quiet, study atmosphere in the classroom where the individual who wishes to study is not distracted by those who do not.

"We request that a citizens' committee be appointed and that this committee be assisted by consultants consisting of a member of the School Board and teachers from the District, the number to be determined at a later time.

"We request that this Committee undertake a thorough study of the present curriculum of our district, and a thorough evaluation of the San Francisco School Survey and how it may apply to our local level."

The committee, composed of Tom Brown and Donald E. Campbell, in addition to Hudson, had polled 439 parents on each proposal and received in each case less than 40 no answers.

The other school board members thought they might find time to consider the parents' proposal and tentatively set July 13 for a meeting with the parents' committee.

est convenience of the members.

The time schedule, providing for September 1962 completion, called for school board approval of the master plan last night. This was impossible since the board was only then receiving the architects' report. The reason for the time lag: public discussion of the high school building program and the proposed October bond issue to finance it was stopped after May 10 until after the June 7 election at the request of the Friends of the Junior College, who feared that the voters would balk at committing the district to buying into Monterey Junior College if they were reminded of the magnitude of their obligations at home.
